

2018-2019 Scholarship Application

Organic Growers School aims to create affordable, broadly accessible programs, while at the same time, providing fair wages to our farmer instructors and dedicated staff. Financial Aid for Farm Beginnings is limited and priority is given to those with the least financial resources and strongest intentions towards raising funds through their own networks. Please consider your needs and resources carefully. We encourage you to consider a Payment Plan as your first option towards financial support. If requesting funding from OGS is necessary, we ask you to consider what would be a stretch, but not a strain, for you to invest in your education and professional development.

The guidelines that will be used to assess applicants are as follows:

- Financial need
- Passion and capacity for farming
- Ability and willingness to give back to program
- Understanding of the value of this farmer training education

Valuing Education

University systems are often heavily funded and subsidized institutions with vast infrastructure and highly paid faculty and staff. As a grassroots-based non-profit we are able to see and fill an educational need not currently offered through institutional education. While we run a lean organization, we do rely on income from our students to make these programs happen. Please consider this farmer training education as invaluable as you would a university or college education. Learning to thrive in a land-based life takes courage and dedication as well as support and training. Your contribution to what you're getting helps us continue to support aspiring and emerging farmers.

1. Did you attend university or college? When? Where?

2. Do you currently owe on college loans?  Yes  No
  - a. If yes, how much is owed?

3. How did you pay for college? Check all that apply:
