By Soul Fire Farm

We are the Ones We’ve Been Waiting For.
Now is the Time.

1. If you have never been to an anti-racism training, sign up with People’s Institute For Survival and Beyond, Catalyst Project, Training For Change, Beyond Diversity 101, White Noise Collective, or Center for the Study of White American Culture.

2. Call your Representative and tell them to pass HR 40, which would establish a commission to study reparations proposals for African Americans, and recommend appropriate remedies.

4. Send an email to a local organization led by people of color and let them know you are willing to volunteer. Specify the number of hours you can contribute and the skills you can offer.

5. Reach out to a family member that you want to support in evolving their race consciousness and set up a time to talk face to face. Break the silence.

6. Identify a publication from your hometown and commit to writing an op-ed about racism in the food system. Write the opening sentence now.

7. Make a commitment to redistribute a courageous portion of your wealth to an organization led by BIPOC using this reparations map http://bit.ly/reparations1619

10. Implement language justice, including interpretation at your events and translation of your written materials.

11. Ask your elected representative to endorse the Platform for Real Food https://healfoodalliance.org/platformforrealfood/

12. Get your city or institution to sign on to Good Food Purchasing guidelines https://goodfoodcities.org/

15. Return land to indigenous people.

16. Listen.
